
Topics Of Interest

The conference will address the focus issues by working in following priority topics:

- Climate change adaptation,
- Integrated water resources management
- River basin management based on ecosystem services
- Resource efficiency and productivity in irrigated agriculture
- Irrigation modernization
- Conjunctive use of surface and groundwater
- Land degradation and salinity management
- Closed loop systems in agriculture and water management
- Hydrological processes in regulated river basins
- Controlling water flow in hydraulic structures.

Active participation in the conference is invited via presentations of papers or posters, or through the conference attendance. The conference organizers Tashkent Institute of Irrigation and Agriculture Mechanization Engineers and the Scientific Information Center of Interstate Committee for Sustainable Development, Uzbekistan. We invite you to participate in the conference and look forward to fruitful cooperation.